

Stars of the Week 29th November 2019

Holly Class Stars of the Week:

Courtney

Courtney is a star of the week because of the progress she has made in sitting and listening on the carpet. She now sits with the other children for every carpet session, and listens carefully to instructions. She has even sat really well through the whole of our Nativity practices. Well done Courtney!

Gracie

Gracie is a star of the week for 'having a go' at writing. A few weeks ago, Gracie told me she couldn't write, but she was encouraged to keep trying and she is now confidently sounding out and writing words all on her own. We are very impressed at your perseverance Gracie!

Willow Class Stars of the Week:

Scarlett

Scarlett is a super role-model! Whenever we are sitting on the carpet or lining up to leave the classroom, Scarlett is always the first learner to be sitting or standing beautifully. She is very good at looking after the classroom and her friends too. Scarlett has also been a super signer this week and has helped her classmates learn the signs to some of our songs. Scarlett you are a super star!

Matthew

Matthew has been a super star this week - always making good choices and helping out around the classroom. He has got so many stars on our chart this week because he is always going above and beyond. He has also made a lot of progress with his listening skills on the carpet and is an excellent role-model in school. Well done!

Beech Class Stars of the Week:

Laila

Laila is a delightful member of Beech Class. When she first came into Year 1 she was quite shy and quiet. Recently, however, Laila has gained lots of confidence and she's really keen to join in with class chats. She is extremely attentive and always tries her best. She likes to consider a task carefully and then just gets on, always completing it brilliantly. Wow! That's great Laila!

Isabella

Isabella is a lovely member of Beech Class. She is so happy to come into school - always smiling and cheerful. She is a kind and thoughtful child - an absolutely super friend to have around. She listens really well and this week has made real progress with understanding number sentences. That's fantastic Isabella!

Maple Class Stars of the Week:

Nuh

Nuh is a lovely friendly member of Maple class he is a wonderful role model to other children. He always works hard, he is kind, thoughtful and helpful. It is an absolute pleasure to have Nuh in Maple Class. He is also an amazing mathematician and his writing is superb! Keep up the excellent work.

Thea

Thea is happy, kind and resilient! She showed me her resilience this week when she wrote some amazing words to describe the sound of the rain. Thea quietly works hard to get things done and she is happy to have a try! Well done Thea!

Laurel Class Stars of the Week:

Jacob

Jacob really is an amazing role model for others. He has an excellent attitude and is enthusiastic about his learning. He tries his best at all times and is always keen to contribute in class discussions. He is a kind and friendly member of Laurel Class.

Sebastian

Sebastian has a really positive attitude to his learning and always tries his best. He usually approaches independent activities with confidence and enthusiasm but also asks for help if he feels unsure. He is a polite and helpful member of Laurel Class.

Sycamore Class Star of the Week:

Charlotte

Charlotte loves P.E. and Multi-sports. She always listens and tries her best. In class, although some of the things we do may not be her favourite, she still tries hard and listens. A great attitude, keep it up.
